[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GREENSBURG, PA., November 8, 1872.

The official vote in Westmoreland county is as follows: Grant, 5,412; Greeley, 4,719; Black, 15. Majority for Grant, 693. P.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., November 8.—The official count gives Grant 1,911 majority in this county. MAC.

TENNESSEE.

NASHVILLE, November 8.—Full returns from counties outside of East Tennessee, amounting to about one-fourth of the State, give Greeley 4,305 majority. In the same counties in 1870, Brown (Democrat) had 9,653 majority; Greeley's loss 5,348. If his loss be no greater in the remainder of the State, his majority would be about 14,000, but Grant's gains in East Tennessee will probably reduce it 10,000. There is an increased vote in the counties heard from over 1870 of about 12,000. Freeman, Republican, for Governor, was behind Grant and Maynard in East Tennessee, which will probably re-elect Brown by a small majority, though Freeman is 13,000 votes ahead.

ARKANSAS.

LITTLE ROCK, November 8.—The election of Asa Hodges, Republican, is conceded in the First district over Gough, Democrat, by about 2,500 majority. Rector, Republican, is elected in the Second district by about 1,500 majority. Gunter, Democrat, is elected in the Third district by about 2,000 majority.

Returns from over one-half of the State give Baxter, Republican, a majority of 2,500. His election is thought to be certain, as also the entire Republican ticket, with possibly one or two exceptions. The Legislature is Republican.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, November 8.—Returns, mostly unofficial, from fourty-four parishes outside of New Orleans, give the Republicans a net majority of 6,471. The same in 1870 gave a net Republican majority of 17,458. The remaining eight parishes in 1870 gave a net Democratic majority of 492. About one-fourth of the city vote has been counted, and gives the Liberals a net majority of 3,334. The Liberal State ticket is undoubtedly elected.

TEXAS.

GALVESTON, November 8.—The election closed at 5 P. M. to-day. The returns from the interior are incomplete. The State is largely Democratic, with four out of six Congressmen. Galveston elected a Democratic county ticket and Representatives. Houston is claimed by both parties. Austin is ahead for the permanent location of the capital, but the result is doubtful.

MARYLAND.

BALTIMORE, November 8.—Further returns received to-day from counties on the Eastern shore, place beyond doubt the election of Wilson, Democrat, Congressman from the First district, by over 500 majority. The delegation stands four Democrats and two Republicans. Corrected returns received to-night reduce Greeley's majority in the State to less than 10,000.

ILLINOIS.

CHICAGO, November 8.—The full vote of the city gives Grant a majority of 8,776. Oglesby, the Republican candidate for Governor, has 4,100 majority, while Beveridge, the Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor, is beaten in the city by Black, Liberal, who has 1,900 majority.

ALABAMA.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., November 8.—Grant has carried Alabama by from four to six thousand majority. The entire Republican State ticket is elected by a small majority. Four, and possibly five Republicans are elected to Congress The aspect of the Legislature is doubtful, but four votes will cover the majority either way.

VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, VA., November 8.—Sixty-eight counties and cities have been heard from, most of them official Republican gains to those. If the Republican gain is the same ratio in the remaining counties, Grant's majority will be about 5,000

INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, November 8.—Official returns from seventy-two counties, with reported and estimated majorities from the other twenty gives Grant 23,104 majority.

MAINE.

AUGUSTA, ME., November 8.—The official returns from 514 towns show a majority for Grant of 28,352.

THE RIVERS.

CINCINNATI, November 8.—River 9 feet 6 inches falling. The Andes arrived from Wheeling and departed for the same port.

LOUISVILLE, November 8.—River falling, with 8 feet 4 inches in the canal and 3 feet 4 inches in the chute. Clear and pleasant. Business good. Arrived—Comet and coal barges, Pittsburgh. Departed—Comet and barges, St. Louis; Minnesota, New Orleans.

MEMPHIS, November 8.—The steamer Katie, which left here last night for New Orleans with a large passenger trip and 443 bales of cotton, struck the wreck of the Lucy Holcomb at the head of Raven, this morning, and sunk. No lives were lost. She can be raised, and the wrecking boat Eckert has been telegraphed for.

BY MAIL.

The Cincinnati Gazette and Commercial of Friday morning, contains the following:—"The Ben. Wood passed up with a tow of empty barges for Pittsburgh.... The Emperor, which has been lying at Portland with several barges of iron ore and the tugboat Paul Jones, all of which she had towed around from the Mississippi, but failed to get up in time to pass through the canal before its close, passed up last evening for Pittsburgh.... The Juniata has given up Sunday as day of departure, and will hereafter leave for Pittsburgh on Saturday at 4 P. M. She is advertised to leave to-morrow.... The following are the through rates from Louisville to New Orleans: Pork $1 per bbl; flour and potatoes, 75c per bbl; bacon and lard, 40c per 100 lbs; whisky, $1.75 per bbl; hay $10 per ton; mules $6 per head; horses $8.... The Baltimore steamers which have run this year in the Missouri, between Sioux City and the Far West, have all done well. The total profits earned, about $200,000.... Capt. John McAllister, an old and well known steamboatman, and the principal owner of the Fannie Dugan, died at his residence in Portsmouth, Monday morning, at 9 o'clock.... Mr. G. T. Cormack, an old and well known Mississippi River pilot, died at the Lost House in Sedalia, Missouri, last Sunday night, of dropsy, and was buried on Monday by his brother, who was with him at the time of his decease.

THE EPIZOOTIC.

LEBANNON.

LEBANNON, PA., November 8.—Not more than one team in a hundred is free from the epizootic on the Delaware and Hudson canal. Few horses dying in this locality from the disease.

OSWEGO.

OSWEGO, N. Y., November 8.—The horse disease continues here to an alarming extent, notwithstanding the favorable weather.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, November 8.—Notwithstanding the fine weather of yesterday, which is continued to-day, there are few horses on the streets this morning; those who were working yesterday have probably suffered a relapse.

The officers of the Humane Society appeal to the citizens not to work their horses while they retain any symptoms of the disease.

Preparations for General Meade's Funeral.

PHILADELPHIA, November 8.—The City Councils yesterday afternoon appointed a joint committee of ten to confer with the military authorities relative to the funeral of General Meade, which will take place on Monday. Both branches of City Council will attend the funeral in a body. Independence Hall will be draped in mourning for thirty days.

A large meeting of the most influential citizens of Philadelphia was held in City Hall to-evening presiding, at which a testi-... of the late General ... as a citizen and his ...

THE CAPITAL.

Report of the Secretary of War—The President's Views on His Re-election—Distinguished Visitors at the White House—Weather Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, November 8, 1872.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY OF WAR.

The annual report of the Secretary of War this year is quite brief. He compliments Congress for such completeness in last year's legislation, that there is little room for legislative recommendation. The Secretary recommends the establishment of military prisons in place of the present system of sending army convicts to State penitentiaries; also the enactment of a code of specific punishment for army offenses. Desertions are reported as having greatly fallen off during the past year. He renews the recommendation that the extra to each regiment be dispensed with as the vacancies occur, and thus save one hundred and sixty thousand dollars per annum. He advises the raising of the Intelligent standard of admission at West Point; also the sale of a large number of the now useless arsenals in the South and elsewhere; the establishment of a general arsenal of construction on the Atlantic slope and another on the Pacific. These arsenals, with that already at Rock Island, in the Mississippi Valley, would effectually meet the wants of the service in time of need. The progress in experiments with improved navy ordnance and with breech-loading small arms is slow. He considers channel obstructions and torpedoes, protected by heavy batteries, as valuable for harbor defense. Experiments have been successful in determining the kind to be used, and the Secretary recommends the storage of torpedoes for defense in New York and other harbors. The new system of inspecting disbursing officers' accounts is in full operation.

He concludes by regretting that one-sixth of the army is still detained in the Southern States east of the Mississippi river. He hopes the improving social condition will soon relieve that force for the frontier service, and says military expenditures are on the descending scale.

THE PRESIDENT'S VIEWS ON HIS RE-ELECTION.

The following are President Grant's views on his re-election: His first election he considers as an honor paid for his military services. His second, as the nation's approval of his political administration and popular vindication of his personal character. Long before the Philadelphia convention he foresaw his success. The nomination of the coalitionists gratified him, inasmuch as it narrowed the contest to two candidates; besides, the character of the opposition gave complete assurance of the result. He was surprised at the affright received by some Republicans at the Cincinnati nominations, and he was therefore urged by political friends to make various changes in his cabinet. Many of his friends had wondered at his indifference, but one helping cause of that indifference, which was known to but few, was his knowledge of the fact that during the campaign the Republican National Committee had pickets in every Greeley camp of any consequence from one end of the country to the other, and knew day by day every phase of the coalition situation as well as the coalition managers themselves.

CONGRATULATING THE PRESIDENT ON HIS RE-ELECTION.

A number of the diplomatic corps, at noon to-day, called in a body upon the President, to tender their congratulations upon his re-election. They were received in the Blue Room by the President and Mrs. Grant, Miss Nellie Grant and members of the Cabinet and the ladies of their households, as follows: Secretary of State and Mrs. Fish, Attorney General and Mrs. Williams, the Secretary of the Navy, Secretary of the Treasury, and Assistant Secretary Cowen, of the Interior Department; of the diplomatic corps—Sir Edward Thornton, British Minister, and lady; Blacque Bey, Turkish Minister, and lady; Senor Borges, Brazilian Minister, and lady; Kurd Von Schlozo, German Minister; Colonel Freyre, Peruvian Minister; Count Corti, Italian Minister; M. Outrey, Charge of Affairs of France, the Minister from that country being absent from the city; M. Delfosse, Belgian Minister; Admiral Polo, Spanish Minister; Mr. Stenstrom, Swedish Minister; Senor Garcia, Minister from the Argentine Republic; Mr. Mori, Japanese Minister, and a number of attaches of various legations. The corps congratulated the President upon his re-election, and afterwards there was a very cordial social re-union, lasting about half an hour, after which the distinguished company withdrew.

It is rumored in army circles that Brig. General O. O. Howard will be promoted to the grade of Major General, vice Meade, deceased, and will be retired immediately with the full grade of Major General on account of long and faithful service and wounds received therein. The retirement of General Howard will still leave a vacancy in the list of Major Generals, which will probably be filled by the promotion of General Terry or General Canby.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

From Lake Michigan over the lower lakes and New England to the Middle Atlantic coast, clear weather with westerly winds, and in the north-west southerly winds, falling barometer and partly cloudy weather, extending southeastwardly to the lower Ohio valley; in the Gulf States, north-easterly to north-westerly winds, threatening weather and rain, extending to the South Atlantic coast.

CONGRATULATORY TELEGRAMS.

The President continues to receive a large number of congratulatory telegrams. One from Col. Jno. S. Mosby says: "Virginia has gone for the Grant ticket."

REPORT OF FIFTH AUDITOR OF THE TREASURY.

The Fifth Auditor of the Treasury has made his annual report to the Secretary. He makes no recommendations, but reviews the work done in his office, being the business adjusted during the year, involving $720,071,726.

CABINET MEETING.

The Cabinet meeting to-day was attended by all the members excepting Belknap and Delano. The Interior department was represented by General Cowen.

NEW YORK.

Election Notes—Reform Promised—Man-of-War for Japan—Careless Builders Censured—Particulars of the Burning of the Steamer Missouri—Comparative Cotton Statement.

NEW YORK, November 8, 1872.

ELECTION NOTES.

At a congratulatory meeting of the Republicans of the Seventeenth Assembly District, last evening, the newly elected District Attorney, Phelps, in a brief speech, pledged himself to measures of reform. He said that he deemed as among the first needs of New York a fearless, impartial and prompt administration of the law, and to those ends he promised to exert himself.

Governor Dix, being interviewed, attributed his success to Grant's popularity and Greeley's weakness. He did not think that Kernan received all the Irish vote, as some of it was cast for himself. He also received many Democratic votes. His administration, he declared, would be conducted on the reform basis.

The election of Havemeyer will cause sweeping changes in the various departments of the city, although many of the incumbents hold over by law. Speculation is already rife as to the probability of the new Legislature modifying the law so as to give the entire city patronage to Havemeyer. The Aldermanic Board is Democratic.

O'Brien is said to have spent heavily in the campaign. The payment of pools on election results took place in his building, and the pool rooms were crowded until after midnight. The amount of stakes is estimated at over three hundred thousand dollars, the tickets being mainly on the municipal contest, as no bets had been made on the general result of the national election.

The World estimates United States Commissioner Davenport's election expenses at nearly a quarter million dollars.

PARTICULARS OF THE BURNING OF THE STEAMER MISSOURI.

The steamer Moro Castle arrived this afternoon, bringing in some survivors of the ill-fated steamer Missouri, burned at sea on October 22d. Mr. Jones, a sailor, states that on Tuesday, October 22d, 2 P. M., a cry of "fire" was raised, and its origin supposed to be in the fire room near the gratings. At this time all hands were reeving the fore-top sail. It was blowing a gale from the northeast. The first and second officers were on deck at the time, and we were ordered at once to attach the hose to the donkey pumps. We set to work with a will, but inside of twenty minutes it was found that the ship must be abandoned. Most of the passengers were at breakfast at the time, but on hearing a cry of "fire" they hurried on deck. But there was no confusion. There were three boats launched, one of which was burned, one swamped with nine passengers in it, one turned bottom up with two sailors on it, and one in which any comrades and I were saved. We remained around the ship for over two hours; but owing to a heavy sea, found it impossible to render any assistance. We saw the burning ship up to about half-past two. There were about thirty-seven passengers and fifty-four of the crew. Before leaving the ship we did everything we could to assist those in the swamped boat. The captain and the officers acted with the utmost coolness, and everything was done to extinguish the fire.

The statement of the other survivors corroborated the story of Jones.

COMPARATIVE COTTON STATEMENT.

DEAN OF EPISCOPAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

At a special meeting of the Trustees of the Theological Seminary of the Episcopal Church, held here yesterday, and which was presided over by Bishop McCaskey, of Michigan, the election of a candidate for Dean, in place of Dr. Labury, deceased, was deferred until June next. Dr. Seymour, who was warmly commended by the Bishop of Illinois, in the meantime will continue to act as Dean.

MAN-OF-WAR FOR JAPAN.

The trial trip of the Japanese Government steamer Kuroda took place in the New York harbor yesterday. She will be officered by Americans, and will probably sail for Japan within three weeks in view of the impending war between Japan and Corea. The Kuroda will be heavily armed on her arrival in Japan.

CASUALTIES.

The Steamer Katie Sunk.

CINCINNATI, November 8.—A Chronicle special says that the steamer Katie, with four hundred and fifty bales of cotton and one hundred and fifty passengers on board, struck the wreck of the Lucy Holcomb, above Helena, Arkansas, at two o'clock this morning, and sunk. No lives were lost.

A PULLMAN PALACE COACH WRECKED.—THREE PERSONS INJURED.

BALTIMORE, November 8.—Last night a passenger train from the west on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad ran into a Pullman palace coach which had been detached from the train from Washington and left standing on a side track at Washington Junction, or Relay House, to be taken up for the west. The Pullman coach was wrecked. There were only six passengers in the coach, three of whom were injured.

DISASTER ON LAKE ERIE.

BUFFALO, N. Y., November 8.—The barge Forest Queen, from Saginaw, laden with lumber, while in tow of the tug Burlington, during a gale last night, was cut loose two miles outside of the Breakwater, and is supposed to be lost with all hands. The barges Kentucky and Star of the North, which were in tow of the tug, were also cut loose at the same time. The former is water logged and the latter was brought in.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS,

From Various Points.

—The jury acquit the railroad from blame of the Seabrook (Mass.) disaster.

—Cardinal Luigix Amat, Vice Chancellor of the Holy Roman Church, died in Nice, Italy, on Thursday, aged 76.

—The President, after attending the funeral of General Meade in Philadelphia, will go to Covington, Ky., to his mother and father.

—The Madrid Epoca publishes a letter from Cadiz, reporting a conspiracy to inaugurate a serious insurrectionary movement which is actively fostered by the Internationals.

THE DESERTED VILLAGE.

Horses Becoming More Scarce—The Advent of the ox—Difficulty of Transporting Goods—Fatal Cases of the Disease in Allegheny.

Our citizens are gradually becoming accustomed to the inconveniences occasioned by the unhealthy condition of that useful domestic animal, the horse, and the matter is very generally treated as a huge joke which some humorous genius had perpetrated upon the people—it is certainly no joke with the horses. The subject is not mentioned without a funny remark of some kind. We may consider ourselves particularly fortunate that we are Americans, for certainly no other people have the peculiar facility of laughing away their misfortunes.

There is very little of a particular nature that is new concerning the disease. It seems to be steadily on the increase, and the streets become more and more desolate each day. A great many animals that are not already suffering with the disease are taken off the streets by their owners, in order to prevent them from taking it. The advent of oxen on the street yesterday occasioned no little sensation, and the last team met with an unbounded reception by the news boys and boot blacks, as it passed down Fifth avenue. In Allegheny, yesterday, a few teams of oxen were seen using four yoke of oxen in hauling lumber. Wheelbarrows and hand-carts are at a premium, and the sight of goods being transported through the streets by these vehicles, is becoming quite common.

It is now almost impossible to get conveyances of any kind for goods, and freight is accumulating in large quantities at the depots and wholesale stores. Yesterday another novel sight was witnessed on Liberty street. Several loaded freight cars, containing goods for merchants along Liberty street, were pushed by hand from the depot, and after the cars were unloaded the stores they were stopped and the freight taken out. Liberty street merchants were willing to acknowledge that for once at least they found a great convenience to have a railroad track in front of their doors.

The street cars continue in the same torpid state, and there is apparently no change in the condition of the horses. The cruelty line will continue to have a monopoly of the street car business, and it is said that a successful treatment of their animals has been discovered. If such is the case it is to be hoped that the remedy will be made public, as everybody, at present, is anxious to know an effective treatment of the disease.

Yesterday was the regular market day in Allegheny, and the country people who came to market seemed greatly frightened about the disease, and were very anxious to get out of the city. Some of them even disposed of their produce at very low rates in order to get out of town while others were so frightened that nothing could induce them to go near the market house. The farmers say that in the districts outside of the city the disease has made its appearance. Some forty of fifty horses, which came in from the country districts, all are affected, and farmers report that in some instances they were not able to come to the city at all, because of the serious illness of their horses.

Although we have heard of no fatal cases in this city thus far, several deaths were reported yesterday in Allegheny. One animal owned by the Pennsylvania Salt Company died yesterday afternoon, and three at the stable of Dr. Zuckickle were also said to have died. We heard of two other fatal cases in the lower part of Allegheny whose owner's names are not known.

THE COURTS.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

SUPREME COURT—FULL BENCH.

The following cases were argued yesterday:

Diehl's appeal, Allegheny county, C. C. Argued by McClurg for appellant, and Winston, contra.

Robinson's heirs vs. Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Argued by Burgwin and Acheson for plaintiff in error, and Hampton, contra.

CRIMINAL COURT.—JUDGE COLLIER.

The case of John Woods, reported yesterday, the jury rendered a verdict of guilty of assault and battery but the jury found a verdict of not guilty and directed the prosecutor to pay the costs.

In the case of Phillip Petrie, indicted for fornication, a nolo pros was entered on payment of costs by defendant.

Charles and George Butler were placed on trial for aggravated assault and battery on wife of Gottleb Mallash. The offense was alleged to have been committed on the night of the Carl Schurz demonstration when the defendants struck him.

Trial List for Friday.

Commonwealth vs.
Elizabeth Steber,	Exed. Schuckit,
John Fox,	Wm. Franz,
Conrad Helm,	D. W. Wright (2).

DISTRICT COURT.—JUDGE KIRKPATRICK.

The case of Louis Thurman for use vs. Conrad Ide, previously reported, was concluded, the jury rendering a verdict for plaintiff for $1,239.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.—JUDGES STERRET AND STOWE.

The next case taken up was that of Benedict Eberlee vs John F. Walker. Action to recover wages. The jury found for plaintiff for $42.49.

ALL TASTES CONSULTED.

The Most Fashionable and Desirable Ladies' Furs—One Price, No Deviation—The Purse and Tastes of all Consulted.

Among the most fashionable Furs for ladies' wear this winter are the black martin, Russian and Hudson Bay sable, mink sable, black lynx.

A very large assortment of the finest qualities and newest styles of the above goods may now be seen at the extensive and popular fur house of Wm. Fleming, 139 Wood street, and be it understood that, notwithstanding this firm will in no case deviate in the very slightest degree from the one price system, all their goods are marked down to the very lowest prices, and to less prices than the same qualities are sold by any other house in the city. The best judges and closest buyers are cordially invited to call and examine the ladies', misses' and children's fine fancy furs before purchasing.

You will also find at this house a complete and extensive line of every grade and quality of furs, from the cheapest to the finest qualities, and thus the purse and tastes of all are consulted.

Lamp Explosion.

The alarm of fire from box 24, Fifth avenue and Smithfield street, shortly before six o'clock, last evening, was caused by the explosion of a lamp in a horse belonging to the row known as "Tin Pot," of Virgin alley. The fire was extinguished by a few buckets of water, and the damage was slight.

The Fire Last Night.

The alarm of fire about half past 11 o'clock last night was caused by the discovery of flames issuing from Barton's Block Pavement manufactory foot of Forty-ninth street. The amount of damage up to the hour of going to press is unknown.

Boots and Shoes.—We would remind those who are desirous of purchasing anything in the Boot or Shoe line, to inspect the extensive and well selected stock of Martin & Shamis's, No. 108 Federal street, Allegheny. This firm have not an article in stock which is not first-class of its kind, and the prices cannot fail to meet the desire of all. The liberality of this popular house is so well known to the public that comment upon their superb stock is almost unnecessary.

For fifty Cents new styles of Jewelry of all kinds, Harmonicas, Dulcimers, Pianos, Shell and Walnut Boxes, Noah's Arks, Building Blocks, Pocket Books, Purses, Inkstands, Stereo styles of Vases, Dolls, Jumping Jacks, and many new goods just received at Evan's Department Store, 59 Fifth avenue.

Every farmer should supply himself with a good farm wagon. They may now be had very cheap 15 to 25 per cent. lower than in the East, at the Duquesne Wagon Works, Marion avenue, Allegheny. The strong points of these wagons are their durability, lightness of draft and cheapness; every one is guaranteed.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE

REV. VANDEWARK lectures to-morrow evening as usual in the Universalist Church. Subject,—"Samson's Riddle."

THE ordinance of baptism will be administered to infants to-morrow morning, in the North avenue M. E. Church, Allegheny.

THE old public school house in the Fifteenth ward is being repaired, preparatory to its occupation by the Fourth Baptist congregation.

REV. W. J. HUTCHINS, of New Caledonia, New York, is spoken of in connection with the pastorate of the Third U. P. Church, Allegheny.

THE Methodist Recorder of this week devotes a page to the sermons of Rev. V. S. Leech, of Cumberland, on Sunday Schools, preached in this city a few Sabbaths since.

REV. GEO. P. HAYS, President of Washington and Jefferson College, has been invited by the Good Templars of Monongahela city to deliver a lecture in that place on Thanksgiving day.

THE First U. P. Church, Allegheny, will hold a congregational meeting within the next week or two, for the purpose of electing a pastor. It is to be hoped that this next meeting will result more successfully than those that preceded it.

REV. J. P. MCNARY, formerly Adjutant in the 123rd Legiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, (Rev. Colonel Clark's) will preach morning and evening, in the Second United Presbyterian Church, Allegheny, (late Rev. Dr. Clark's) to-morrow.

REV. H. G. WESTWOOD, D. D., pastor of the Fourth Street M. E. church, Wheeling, West Va., will preach in the South Common M. E. church, Allegheny, to-morrow morning at 10½ o'clock, and in the evening at 7 o'clock. All invited.

THE annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association will be held on Thursday evening, November 21st. Rev. George J. Nungus, Superintendent of New York City Missions, will address the meeting, besides others whose names are not yet announced.

REV. SAMUEL COLLINS will preach in the Central U. P. Church, Allegheny, to-morrow at 10½ and Rev. J. W. Wotherspoon, at 7 o'clock P. M. This church has just been supplied with a new pulpit, which is a great improvement on the old one, which was very old fashioned.

REV. W. A. FINDLEY, of Chelopa, Kansas will preach for the Wylie Avenue U. P. Church on Sabbath evening in the Hall of the Eleventh Ward Public School House at 7½ o'clock. The services will be preparatory to the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper which will be celebrated on the following Sabbath. A cordial invitation extended to the public.

MR. THOMAS BROWN, of Allegheny, the first Sabbath in the present month, closed a Janitorship of thirty-three years duration. He was engaged at the Second U. P. Church, Allegheny —his services in that one place dating back thirteen years—the remainder of time being put in elsewhere. During all the twenty-three years he never was "off duty" one Sabbath.

THE Young Men's Christian Association all over the land, observe Sunday, November 10th, as a day of special prayer. On the afternoon of that day, at four o'clock, a prayer meeting will be held at the rooms of the Association in this city, and in the evening an address to young men will be delivered in the First Presbyterian church, Wood street, by Rev. S. F. Scott, who has just returned from a European trip, and will speak of "Young Men and their Work abroad."

In accordance with the recommendation of the National Convention of Young Men's Christian Associations, the second Sabbath of November will be observed by the Christian Associations all over the land as a day of special prayer for God's blessing upon their work. The Association in this city will observe the day by having a special meeting for prayer in their rooms on Sabbath afternoon, November 12th, at 4 o'clock, to which all persons are cordially invited.

A Specialty.

The specialty to which attention is given at the Merchant Tailoring establishment of Hesbenhide & Co., No. 80 Sixth street, is that of perfect fits, and it will be specially well to call and be appreciated by every gentleman. The fit of a garment is half of its character. Hesbenhide & Co. recognizing this fact, are particularly careful to cut according to patterns prepared in New York, a machine way of doing business—but to cut and fit according to the figure of the patron. In this way they always can be found to give satisfaction. And will always do so in the future. They are prepared to make any desired style of garment, for business, for dress, for pleasure and comfort, for full dress for hymeneal occasion for any and all times, and at the most reasonable prices; 80 Sixth avenue, near Penn.

Safe Insurance.

A man who has a policy of insurance on his home is not always safe, because the company may not be of the proper character. He cannot go wrong however when he takes out his insurance in such a home institution as the National of Allegheny, because its method of doing business, its record in the past, its present standing, its home management, all go to make it a safe one. Having however when he takes out his insurance in such a home institution as the National of Allegheny, because its method of doing business, its record in the past, its present standing, its home management, all go to make it a safe one. Having decided upon the company, the next thing is to decide upon the agent, and in this matter we would say that Mr. Jno. S. Dickson, No. 84 Fourth avenue, is the gentleman to call upon. He represents the National of Allegheny, and is prepared to write policies at the lowest rates.

THE Post is industriously at work to prove that some others were worse beaten than Greeley. No need of that.

THE next House of Representatives, elected this year, will consist of 292 members. It is estimated from the latest returns that it will stand 200 Republicans to 92 Democrats. We are close enough to a two-thirds majority for all practical purposes.

VICE-PRESIDENT COLFAX publishes a card, declining to be a candidate for the United States Senatorship from Indiana. He affirms his retirement to private life. We had no thought that the Vice-President would be a competitor against Senator Morton, and the event justifies our impression.

THE vote of Philadelphia on Tuesday last, compared with the October vote is as follows:

October vote	118,119
November vote	92,266
Hartranft	69,278
Grant	68,836
Buckalew	48,741
Greeley	23,410

"What a falling off was there my countrymen."

THE popular majority of President Grant is something amazing. It is said that he and a few friends sat up late at night on Tuesday, receiving returns. At last he drew out a paper containing an estimate, made by himself some weeks previously, and the figures were found to be remarkably accurate. The largeness of the majorities, however, is a matter of astonishment to many.

THE name of Wm. M. Meredith, of Philadelphia, who headed the Republican ticket for delegate at large, is brought forward in various quarters for President of the Constitutional Convention. The Philadelphia delegates, without distinction of party, held a conference on Wednesday, and agreed to support Mr. Meredith for the position. His election without any contest is very probable. Mr. Meredith served in the convention of 1838.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal is disgusted with the Northern Democracy, and vents its feelings in this way:

The Democrats in the North have not done their duty. Well, they fooled us in 1861, when they swore that Lincoln and his hirelings would have to march over their dead bodies to get at the South, and they have been fooling us ever since with wordy protestations that only misled us. If they had stood up to us Greeley would have been elected. It strikes us that, hereafter, we had best take care of ourselves and go it on our own hook.

That's right—go it alone; but how about Kentucky, 76,000 for Seymour and 10,000 for Greeley? At this rate of decay you won't be able to crawl even, in another year.

IT does not appear that Mr. Kernan in New York was very much "cut" on account of his religious belief. An attempt was made to show that he would be, and this probably attracted sympathetic voters to him. In New York city, Mr. Greeley runs about nine hundred ahead of Kernan. In the lower wards of the city, Greeley was behind, and in the upper wards Kernan. In the lower part of the city the Irish Catholic population is concentrated, many of whom voted for Grant and Kernan. In the State there will be little difference; not more than two or three thousand between the majorities of Grant and Dix—the latter leading. A candidate's religious belief is becoming a subject of less inquiry every year. In this respect all classes and parties are becoming more liberal, and this is the true spirit of our system of government.

THE names of some of the ablest men in the Democratic party will be missed from the roll of the next House. They have gone down under that "tidal wave." At the October election, the Democrats lost all their prominent Pennsylvania members except Randall; in Ohio, General Morgan was defeated, and in Indiana, Messrs. Voorhees and Kerr. At the late contest they have lost heavily everywhere. In New York, "Sunset" Cox is defeated, and Gen. Slocum, one of their best men, did not make the race. His successor in his Brooklyn district is General S. L. Woodford. Fernando Wood, James Brooks and Clarkson N. Potter are the only conspicuous Democrats elected from New York. In Maryland, ex-Governor Swann, in Kentucky Mr. Beck, and in Illinois S. S. Marshall were successful. Aside from these we recognize few names of established reputation. Not only numerically but intellectually the Democrats will make a poor showing in the next House. The opposite is the case with the Republicans. All their experienced parliamentary leaders have been sent back, and they will be reinforced by many new names of great promise.

THE feasibility of making a canal across the Isthmus of Darien to unite the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, is at last to be thoroughly tested. Two expeditions are to leave Washington, to survey what are known as the Darien and Nicaraguan routes. Commander Selfridge, the originator of the Darien route, will, with his party, consisting of Lieutenants Collins, Eaton and Sullivan, of the navy, cross the isthmus by rail to Panama, and there join one of the vessels of the Pacific fleet, in which he will proceed down the coast to the place decided upon for striking across the isthmus, which will be a point from where the navigable waters of the Atrato river can be the most readily reached. The survey will not occupy more than four months at the farthest, and, leaving the United States on January 1, 1873, we may expect to see the Darien expedition back by the 1st of June following, which will be giving them ample time for all unavoidable delays. Commander Lull, who has charge of the Nicaraguan expedition, will have a larger party, and make a more extensive survey. His operations will commence from the Atlantic coast, and their first point of departure will be Hampton Roads, from whence a man-of-war will carry them to Greytown, which will be the headquarters of the expedition. The officers thus far detailed to assist in this important work are Lieutenant-Commander Schuyler and Lieutenants Lester, Moser Schuirz and Hawley. Those who have followed the fortunes of the four previous surveying expeditions sent out by the Government since 1869, will recognize among the officers of these two expeditions old and familiar names. By next spring the feasibility of an inter-oceanic canal by either route will be definitely determined. Should either be settled upon the whole question will resolve itself into a matter of dollars and cents, and whatever the cost or the obstacles to be surmounted, over that route the canal will pass.

GEN. GRANT AND THE SOUTH.

We are glad to see that a number of the prominent Southern journals that opposed the re-election of President Grant accept the situation with a cordiality and cheerfulness that promises well for the future of that section. The idea that there is any conflict between the North and South is preposterous, and equally ridiculous is the pretence, made prominent in the late canvass, that the sentiment of hate animates either the Republican party or the Administration towards the Southern people. The great producing interests of the South are closely interwoven with the manufacturing industries of the North. Pittsburgh is to-day infinitely more interested in seeing the Southern States, down to the Gulf of Mexico, peaceable, prosperous, and progressive in the development of their vast resources, than it is concerned about the communities north and east of us. There is hardly any limit to the growth of the business relations between our manufacturers and the farmers, planters and traders of the Southwest. With the re-election of General Grant a more perfect reconciliation will ensue between the sections than if Mr. Greeley had been successful. It is a final declaration by the people of the whole country that the old reactionary influences will not be allowed to stand in the way of national progress and national unity. This in itself will stimulate enterprise at the South, draw capital there, and encourage emigration. Then we think the Southern people will not be so prone in the future as in the past to misinterpret the policy of the Government, and that this in its turn will beget a reciprocal confidence, and whatever indirect influence the national administration possesses will be thrown in favor of honest local government at the South, and in opposition to the supremacy of public plunderers, no matter whether they are carpet-baggers or native to the soil. We believe in the future, the South more than any other section will have cause to rejoice over the re-election of Grant, and that it will open a new era of material and intellectual development for the Southern people, out of which will come a higher national life and a higher standard of patriotism. There is no irrepressible conflict now; whatever augments the political power and material progress of the Southern people adds so much to the general prosperity of the nation. The North appreciates this truth, and it only remains for the South to accept and act on it.

The Baltimore American has some remarks on the subject of more thorough reconciliation between the sections that will touch a responsive chord in the breast of every true American, whether North or South. We quote:

"As the Republican party made certain the unity of the nation, so also it should win no prouder guerdon than the homogeneity of the North and South. We are the victors; shall we not hold out the olive branch in our day of victory?

"There is a question of material prosperity in all this. This great and growing nation, the model of republicanism to all the world, the young Giant of the West, that gathers all people into the congenial folds of republican institutions and offers equal rights to all, must not be riven in two by a bitter enmity of sections. It is the disaster and the improfit of the whole for us to be at war. It is not worth while for us now to talk of the sins of the South; the clash of arms has been seven years ended, and we may turn our attention to practical results. If we are to take rapid steps onward in the march of progress and prosperity we must have reconciliation, and it is the governing party which will prove inadequate to its glorious responsibilities if it does not make of us a nation of friends. We are so absolutely and certainly the winners that we ought to have no hesitation in giving a full and frank hearing to the complaints of those whom we have defeated, and a careful attention to remedying them. The grievances of the South are more fancied than real, but insomuch as they are imaginary so much easier is the task of smattering them to the winds. The Republican party has never been proved unequal to the needs of the nation, and we do not think that it will fail now to bring us through the night of war and fierce political contention to the light of union and prosperity. If we not be a family of States" Is there any reason why we should not blot out enmities of the past? Mr. Greeley's friends labored to teach the Democratic John Smith of South Carolina that his Republican friend Jones of New York was a miserable rascal who upheld a despotism which oppressed the South, but Smith probably knew better, and perhaps after the election felt that Jones as a unit in the dominant party would rather exert himself for the good of the weaker section. The lesson may be made general instead of particular; its application is equally open.

"President Grant nearly four years ago said, "Let us have peace." It is now full time for the Republican party to realize that hearty countersign of alliance. The majorities of tens of thousands and hundreds of thousands that tide the soldier-statesman once more into the Presidential chair are the guarantee that the nation trusts him as the Executive of the whole. Republicans need not be sectional; the President whom they have re-elected will not be."

LIMITATION OF INDEBTEDNESS.

Another item worthy the most serious attention, on the part of the Constitutional Convention, is the limitation of the indebtedness of towns, cities and counties. Whatever restrictions may already exist, in various forms, should be strengthened, or what is better, the Constitution should clearly fix this subject, and leave it permanently settled. The Illinois Constitution limits municipal and county indebtness to five per cent. of the assessed value of property within such municipality or county. And it requires that even for this amount provision shall be made, looking to the payment of interest, and the extinguishment of the debt within twenty years. The operations of the Tammany Ring in New York, and the fact that we have two metropolitan cities within our borders, points to the imperative importance of limitations in this direction.

We appreciate the many difficulties which surround this subject. The assessments may, of course be raised to suit the emergencies of the case. For example, the real estate of a county may be assessed at two millions of dollars, and the debt be one hundred thousand. For special reasons, good or bad, it is proposed to increase the debt to two hundred thousand; the assessments have only to be increased one hundred per cent, and the basis is reached, and the increase becomes constitutional. The rapid growth in the value of property, and the fact that it is usually assessed far below its real worth, always leaves an open door for this kind of evasion. In this county, real estate has actually advanced in value, in many places, one thousand per cent. in seven or eight years. Yet it would not be entirely proper to hold municipalities to so rigid a rule, as that improvements would be impeded, and progress delayed. Where taxation is restricted, and the power to contract debt limited, it prevents municipalities from carrying forward improvements as rapidly as may be thought desirable. This would particularly affect this city, which has recently consolidated a large tract of outlying country, through which streets are to be cut, graded, sewered and paved, and on which an enormous outay must be made. In such a case, it would be hard to require that taxation should be sufficiently great to meet the outlay at once. More than this, properties improved will grow in value for years, and if the debt is extended over twenty years, will be disposed of without grievous difficulty.

Hence, we do not favor an unbending, inflexible rule, which shall limit indebtedness, where it is legitimately incurred, by properly constituted authorities, for the improvement of a city. On the other hand, there should be a check on unlimited indebtedness. The evils to be guarded against are such abuses of power as Tammany evinced, and on the other side, the repression of improvement. If Pittsburgh grows, during the next twenty years as it bids fair to do, it must make large outlays, and incur large indebtedness. Our water works will cost from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000. The public park, streets, and other improvements will call for liberal outlays, and these must be made or the growth of the city retarded.

What strikes us as proper, may be embraced in the following suggestions: That the indebtedness of a municipality or a county shall not be greater than five per cent. of the assessment, unless such increase shall be directly voted by the people. In all cases where such increase over five per cent. is made, bonds shall be issued, and provision made for their redemption in not more than twenty years. This will leave the people option as to the creation of debt, and yet limit it by what may be regarded as safe precautions. The people will generally realize that if a debt is contracted, it must be paid, and will be careful not to make it greater than they will be willing to meet when the emergency shall arise. If left to mere politicians, the evils already experienced in several cities may be repeated. The people, however, are sufficient safeguards in this particular.

Another subject entirely relevant to this is that of taxation. If cities, townships or counties are not permitted to create excessive debt, some care must be taken to control taxation; else this may be made the loophole of escape from proper restrictions. In the first place taxation should be equalized and limited. In Illinois counties are not permitted to assess taxes, the aggregate of which shall exceed seventy-five cents per one hundred dollars valuation. Such limitations meet the main feature of equalization,—they fix a point beyond which taxation shall not extend. There are other features which it is desirable to provide for,—as the maximum valuation to be placed on property. In some places this is as high as fifty per cent. of the value; in others, as low as ten per cent. of valuation. We believe it should not exceed thirty-three and one-third per cent. in any case. We hope the present policy of the State, as to the taxation of railroad corporations will be retained, except so far as it may be necessary to modify the rate to meet other exigencies which we hope will develop. This, we will discuss at another time.

No subject that can be brought to the attention of the Convention will be found more delicate and important than this of which we now make mention. It should be referred to a committee composed of the best minds in the Convention. There will be other subjects quite as complex, but none more important. The growth and prosperity of our cities, the safety of the property of the people, the development of the material resources of the State,—these and other matters depend on the proper regulation of municipal and county indebtedness, and the proper adjustment of taxation. There is no State in the Union with greater possibilities of development than this. We have vast resources, and are now on a career of prosperity unparalleled in the past. Let us care for this, fostering on the one hand and guarding on the other, and the next decade will be one of unmixed prosperity.

GEN. MEADE'S illness was not generally known; its gravity not apprehended when known. Public attention was diverted by an unusual excitement, and the news falls like a bolt from a clear sky. He died at six o'clock Wednesday evening, at his residence, No. 1,836 De Lancey place, from acute pneumonia. He was attacked the preceding Thursday with pains in the chest, and was immediately confined to his bed. The disease assumed an alarming type Monday, and the patient sank in strength under its access to Tuesday night, when he rallied a little. On Wednesday morning the symptoms again became more threatening, and death followed at six o'clock in the evening. Almost precisely two years ago the General suffered a severe attack of the same disease, from which he rallied, but, as it seems, without the full recovery that was supposed.

THERE was no exaggeration in the remark made by a London magistrate the other day, "that there seemed at present to be a mania among women for committing suicide." In the whole United Kingdom the amount of such deposits exceed $285,000,000, not counting the sums deposited with the numerous friendly societies and similar associations.

THE appetite of divorce grows by what it feeds on. In London, in 1861, there were 261 applications for divorce; in 1870 there were 318, and in 1871 the number had increased to 425. At this rate London will soon come up to the Chicago standard. The whole number of petitions filed since the establishment of the London Divorce Court is 4,568, an average of 336 each year. It must be understood, however, that all divorce cases arising in England are tried in London. There are no local divorce courts.

The Alexandria, Va., Sentinel says: "There are in Virginia but twelve cotton factories, seven of which are situated at Petersburg. In these factories, and the four or five large flouring mills which are now run on the Appomattox, near that city, capital amounting to more than $1,000,000 is invested, which pays the stockholders dividends of from seven to twenty-five per cent. per annum. They give employment also to 1,500 to 2,000 persons, at wages which enable them to live in easy comfort. Besides these, twenty large tobacco factories are located there, in which hundreds of thousands of dollars are invested, and in which hundreds of laborers operate."

THERE is a conflict of authority in reference to the extent of the application of the law providing for extra compensation to United States Government employes who work more than eight hours a day. The United States Attorney General has decided that the spirit of the act applies to all persons in the service of the Government, who are employed by the day. On the other hand the Second Comptroller of the Treasury holds that the act only covers the cases of mechanics, workmen and laborers or those who perform manual labor; he therefore refuses extra compensation to superintendents, watchmen and messengers. In consequence of this conflict of opinion the matter will have to be referred to Congress for additional legislation on the subject.

THE value of earth as a disinfectant and deodorizer is well known; and the treatment of ulcerated sores and gangrenous wounds with it is becoming very general. A new application of this system has lately been described, namely, the use of clay for a dressing for the face in two cases of confident small-pox—dusting it, in fine powder, over the face of the patients as soon as the pustules become fairly developed. This, it is stated, formed a "clean, dry, wholesome scab, absorbing the infectious material, sealing off, during convalescence, and leaving the underlying skin in its natural and normal state. The painful and persistent itching, which is well-known as one of the worst characteristics of the disease, was by this simple means entirely abated. The earth used was fine clay.

BALANCE.
Has been in successful operation for over 3 years. Has, in every case, when properly fitted to the windows, given general satisfaction. It completely does away with the old style of cords and weights; has none of the vexatious annoyances of that old plan; does not get out of order, and is warranted to wear and work satisfactory as long as the window remains.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

There is but little change to note in local money matters since our last report. The symptoms, however, are gradually growing more favorable, the tone is becoming more confident, and the signs more confirmed that an easy, if not a plethoric, condition will be arrived at before the close of the month. Gold to-day is advancing, and a continuance of the rise in the premium thereof will very much accelerate the speed toward a comfortable ease in money matters. That there can be any long continuance of stringency, or that the trouble which has so much annoyed the business interests of late is to be oft repeated, is something there is no basis for with the American people. Necessity is the mother of invention, and if the Government should fail, which there is very little likelihood of it doing, in finding ways and means to meet the increasing wants of the times, the people, in some way or shape, will secure the desired end. Mr. Boutwell thus far has come to time, and that he will not continue to do so is a conclusion, judging his future from his past, that is not warranted. The back of wholesome speculation has been broken, and so far he has proved himself master of the situation. It is true that sometimes he has to sail in very shallow water, with crooked channels and jaggy rocks staring him in the face, but he has never so far failed to weather the storm, save his vessel from damage, bring her through the breakers unharmed, and safely anchor her in port.

The condition of trade, owing to the easing up in money matters, looks much better; and were it not for the horse disease, which is now so prevalent, and has to stop to, for the time being, of several of the largest manufactories, business would be quite brisk.

The Chicago Tribune of Thursday say: The money market is still stringent. The most of the banks are carrying large amounts of extended paper, and find it difficult to get their discount lines down to a proper proportion to deposits. Some of those that have succeeded in reducing loans so as to have a little surplus of the now on hand, are holding on to it in anticipation of a demand from the pork packers, and are, therefore, giving but little additional aid to other departments of trade. In regard to the probable demands upon the capital of this city to carry grain in store this winter, it may be said that the storage capacity of the city has been great y increased since this time last year, and that there is now a large amount of storage room unoccupied now than then. There are still very large crops of wheat in Iowa and Minnesota to come forward, and it is possible that before it will be called upon to carry 8,000,000 bushels more grain than last winter, but owing, to the much lower prices now than then, the amount of money required will probably be less. It seems quite certain that the mercantile community will be applicants for a good deal more bank aid this winter than during the previous one. But the increased storage capacity of the city will aid the movement of grain to the country, as country grain buyers will not be compelled to hold their grain in the country warehouses to as great an extent as last winter. The small amount of grain at lide-water will also favor a movement eastward, all winter, to the full capacity of the railroads.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

Business in all its various branches is badly crippled by the horse epidemic, and the worst feature lies in the fact that there is not much prospect of an immediate improvement. Their is an increased demand for nearly all the leading commodities, and those houses that are still enabled to deliver goods have all they can do, and that, too, at very full prices. There was considerable grumbling a few week ago, about money being tight, but that, while bad enough, was nothing compared with the epizootic.

APPLE—Quiet and unchanged; $1,50@2 per bbl for fair to prime.

APPLE BUTTER—40@50 cts per gallon.

BAGGING—Peun. twill, 30 cts per bushel, 44 cts. two and one-half bushel, 45; three bushels, 58; Allegheny two bushel, 36 cts.

BEANS—$2,50@3 per bushel.

BROOM CORN—There is a fair demand, particularly for good corn, but no change to note in prices; we continue former quotations, 4@7 cts.

BUTTER—Is in good supply and generally reported dull but there is no change in prices; prime to choice roll, 25@28; solid packed, 19@23.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is coming in freely and prices are drooping; we now quote at 4½@ 4¾ cts per lb.

CANDLES—Mould, 12; Stearine, 15; Star, 22.

CARBON OIL—May be quoted at 23½@24 cts. 1@2c additional for small lots.

CHEESE—Prime Goshen 16¼@17 cts; Ohio Sweitzer, 15¾@16¼.

CIDER—Is still reported dull and prices are nominal at $4,50@5 per bbl.

CORN MEAL—Unchanged at 75@85¼ cts. per lb.

CRANBERRIES—Sackl's and Carey's Belle Berries, $14@15 per bbl; common, $10@12.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$8 per case.

DRIED FRUITS—Peaches, small sales of prime quarters at 4½@5; apples dull at 3@4 cts.

EGGS—Are coming in pretty freely, but prices for fresh are still maintained, 29@30. Pickled eggs may be quoted at 24@27.

FEATHERS—No. 1 live geese may be quoted at 72 to 75 to the trade and 3 to 5c additional for smaller lots.

FLOUR—There is no falling off in the demand, but dealers are unable, in consequence of the horse epidemic, to deliver, hence trade is dull, notwithstanding. Prices, however, are without quotable change; $7,50@8 for fair to choice spring wheat, and $8,00@8,50 for fair to choice winter wheat. Rye Flour, $4,25@4,50.

GRAIN—Continues very dull, and no improvement is anticipated until after the epizootic has abated somewhat. Wheat is quiet and nominally unchanged; $1,58@1,70 for good to choice red winter, and $1,45@1,50 for fair to good; white very dull and weak, though not quotably lower; 39 to 40 for mixed and 41 to 42 for white. The consumption has fallen off since the appearance of the horse disease, still feed, particularly corn, being used as a substitute, and there is less inquiry for corn for the same reason, though shelled is still quotable at 56 to 58. Rye continues quiet and we quote nominally at 75 to 80. Barley, 80 to 85 for fair to prime and 90 for choice.

GROCERIES.—The grocery trade, like all other branches of business, is dull—most of the houses being unable to deliver or receive goods for want of transportation. Both Coffees and Sugars are reported weaker in the east, but this was not unexpected, as the demand must of necessity be very much restricted; hence there will be an accumulation in first hands, and a stronger pressure will be made to realize. A Rio telegram under date of Oct. 18th, and received at New York on Thursday, reports as follows: Purchases since 1st inst., 92,000 bags; stock 120,000 bags; daily receipts 10,000 bags; Price $8100. Exchange, 26. Market very firm.

SUGARS—Granulated, 13¾; Crushed, 13¾@ Powdered, 13¾; A. Coffee, 13; B, 12¾; Ex. C 12¼; C, 12¼; Chesapeake Ex. C., 12¼; Molasses Sugars, 8¼@10; Porto Rico, 10¾@11; Demarara, 11¾@11¾.

COFFEE.—Choice Rio 24; Prime 22; Good 21; Fair 20; Ordinary 19 to 20; Mocha 32. Roasted in 10 packages 25; loose 24¾.

HAY—There is a fair demand for baled, and the receipts of wagon hay from the country are very light, as farmers, we presume, are afraid to bring their horses here in consequence of the epizootic; prices are firmer though unchanged; $25@30 per ton, according to quality.

HONEY—Sales 24@30 cts per lb.

LARD OIL—The demand is in light supply; No. 1 winter strained may be quoted at 78@80 cents.

ONIONS—Sales, in small lots, at $2,50@3,25 per bbl; in quality.

POULTRY—Live chickens, 50@60 cents per pair; dressed, 14@15 cts. per lb.

POTATOES—Sales of Peach Blows on track at 65@70 cents, from store at 75. Sweets $4@ 4,50 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Plain Shoulders, 7¼; Sugar cured Shoulders, 10c; Breakfast Bacon, 14c; Rib Sides, 11¼; Short Rib Sides, 12; Clear Sides, 12¾; Sugar Cured Hams, 17¾c; Dried Beef, 14c. Lard, in tierces, 9¾c; half bbls, 10¾c; pails, 11c. Mess Pork, $16,00; Beef Tongues, 7,50 per dozen.

RAGS—Quoted at 3¾@3¾ cts.

SEEDS—Flax Seed, $1,90@1,95. Nothing doing in Clover or Timothy Seed.

TALLOW—Unchanged at 8 to 8¾.

WHISKY—Highwines firmer and higher; we now quote at 93@95 cts per gallon.

PITTSBURGH IRON MARKET.

What little life there was in the pig iron trade has been almost completely extinguished by the horse disease; the great majority of the horses employed in hauling metal have the contagion, and, in consequence, cannot be used, and as a matter of course, consumers, even if they were in want of iron, would not buy, knowing that they could not have it removed from the metal yards to their works. Our manufacturers generally, however, seem to be more apprehensive in regard to their supply of coal than metal; as a rule they nearly always have enough of the latter to run them two or three weeks, but many of them, in fact the great majority, do not usually have more than a load each on hand from 24 to 48 hours, hence, it will be seen that there is more danger of running out of coal than of metal, and the latter is of but little account without the former. For the immediate future, and if the epidemic holds out another week, which is very probable, the probability is that some of the mills will be obliged to shut down.

Since the above was put in type we have had some unusually large sales reported, which put a different face on the situation, and indicates that business has been much better this week than we had been led to believe.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

The crude market continues strong, and prices have still further advanced; $4,30@4,35 per bbl, equal to about 11¢@11¼ cts per gallon here. Refined also firmer and more active, with sales of 8,000@10,000 bbls reported at 26¼; this would indicate an improved export demand, which, as we have previously noted, was not unexpected.

Oil Barrels in limited supply, and in demand, and prices are firm but unchanged; city, $2,15; country, $2,10.

RIVER NEWS.

The river has risen about an inch since the date of our last report, with four feet six inch in the channel. Weather clear and pleasant.

The R. R. Hudson departed for Wheeling la night, almost flying light, where she will doubtless load for Cincinnati. It is not likely that she will come back to this port soon.

The Messenger, Capt. Cook, is announced for St. Louis and Missouri River.

The Brill departed for Nashville at noon yesterday, with a large freight and engagements below, including 500 barrels of apples at Rochester and 3,000 kegs nails at Wheeling. William Gosney and Thomas Kinsey are her pilots to Cincinnati.

The Arlington did not get out until about six o'clock on Friday morning. She could have taken more freight, but she is reported as having quite a number of passengers.

The Granite State, Capt. Portsmouth, arrived and departed as did also the Carrie Brooks, from Wheeling. Neither of these boats had much of a trip out.

The Exchange, Capt. Ed. Evans, with Mr. J. M. Vandergrift in the office, will take her departure for St. Louis to-day without fail. She is a big carrier, and withal has superior accommodations for passengers.

Business was very dull at the landing yesterday, in the way of shipments; there is plenty of freight for points south and west, but that is all that can be said, as there is but little for the present be moved for want of horses.

—A St. Louis telegram under date of Wednesday says: The Boaz, Oakland and H. C. Wilson of the coal fleet, arrived. The latter took south the empty barges. The Oakland remains here to go South with a tow on the first rise. The W. F. Gaylord left for Hanging Rock. One of the gigales of the new locks was towed to the canal to-day. The other will probably be brought over to-morrow. It is reported the new locks will be opened by the last of next week.

—The Davenport Gazette says: Freights by river to St. Louis have advanced to forty cents per hundred—fifteen cents per hundred more

HOME NEWS.

Broke His Leg

On Thursday evening about half past eight o'clock, a man who was walking along Church avenue, Allegheny, noticed a board off a fence near St. Peter's Church, and proceeded to step inside. It happened that at that place the yard was about twenty feet below the level of the street. Into the man did not notice, and in his fall his leg was broken in three places. The injured man was removed to the Hospital and his injuries attended.

Charge Against Police Officers.

A few days ago William Harvey was arrested in Lawrenceville by Henry Earnest and Charles Grass, of Mayor Blackmore's police, and taken to the Seventeenth Ward Station. On being brought before Deputy Mayor Nichols the next morning, he was discharged. Yesterday Harvey made an Information before Alderman O'Donnell, charging the two officers above named with assault and battery. He alleges that when the arrest was made he was peaceably seated in his own house. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the defendants.

Granite.

"Granite, in a material sense, is a substance of eternal duration." Monuments erected of this stone over three thousand years ago, are said to be as fresh as when they came from the sculptor's hands."—[Nicholson's Architecture.] Messrs. Dodds & Caskey, corner of Penn and Thirty-second streets, of this city and of Xenia, O., are the most extensive importers and manufacturers of Foreign and Domestic Granites for monumental purposes west of the Alleghenies. A visit to their yards will repay any one intending to purchase memorial stones. Reasonable prices prevail in all departments of their trade. The best work furnished and satisfaction in every case of purchase guaranteed.

Alleged Perjury.

An information was yesterday made before Alderman McMasters by Samuel J. Heath, charging John M. Snee with perjury. The parties reside in Snowden township and are respectable and well-to-do citizens. Some time ago a suit was brought before a justice of that township by Mr. Snee, who charged Heath with horse stealing. In the information made yesterday, Heath charged Snee with perjury in falsely swearing in that case. Heath alleges that he told the defendant that he would shut up his animals if he allowed them to run at large, and that when the suit was brought before the Snowden Justice it was dismissed. A warrant was issued for the arrest of Snee.

A Peculiar Subpœna.

Several days ago an old German named August Niggle, escaped from the infirmary of Columbiana county, Ohio. Yesterday afternoon he came into the office of Mayor Callow and gave himself up, and was sent back to the Ohio infirmary. In his pocket was found a rather peculiar subpœna, summoning him to appear in the case of Andrew Johnson vs. Old Nick, which was to be tried in the Court of Common Pleas, of Columbiana county, Ohio. The subpœna was signed U. S. Grant, clerk of the Court, and had on it several genuine seals of the county. The case was to be tried, according to the subpœna, at 21 o'clock, A M. Whether the case ever was tried is not known, but one would suppose that a more probable way of putting it would be Old vs. A. J.

A Model Tattering Establishment.

We yesterday visited the extensive merchant Tailoring Establishment of Mr. H. G. Hale, at the corner of Penn and Sixth streets, when we were pleased to learn that, large as his orders were last year, they have been much larger this year. This is as it should be. When a thorough-bred mechanic trained from his youth to his business, always ambitious of success, and determined by industry, skill and honesty to deserve it, he will surely fail to accomplish it. Mr. Hale is an example of this. None in the business has been more assiduous to deserve or more successful in reaching a first class position in his branch of business. We are pleased to know that his patrons are counted by hundreds among our best citizens—that those who deal once with him very rarely go elsewhere for anything in his line. His stock of clothe cassimeres, and of all stuffs for men and boy's wear is always kept large and varied to suit every taste. He employs the best cutters at whatever cost, and will have none but first-class workmen about him. Hence he always does fit well and wear well. A suit from his shop will compare favorably with the best materials and workmanship from any of the celebrated shops in the East. We have no scruple in thus recommending, it is a pleasure to recommend, both the establishment and its proprietors as every way worthy of a front place among the merchant and custom tailors of this country.

THE STOLEN OBJECT GLASS.

It is at Last Recovered by the Chief of Police—Locked up Safely in the Mayor's Office—A Clue to the Thief.

The particulars of the robbery of the great object glass belonging to the Western Observatory of Allegheny are still fresh in the minds of the public. In the latter part of July last the Observatory was entered by burglars and robbed of the object glass which was valued at about $4,000. The lens was stolen probably with a view of obtaining a reward for the restoration of the property.

Soon after the glass was stolen Chief of Police Irwin received a letter from a man in Willoughby, Ohio, asking what would be paid him if he would give information that would secure the recovery of the glass. The Chief responded and the man came on here. He gave no definite information, however, and finally disappeared in the direction of the westward of the city.

It appeared that the thief became too confidential among certain of his friends, and one of these who was formerly a printer on one of the papers of this city, but some time since committed to the Work House on a charge of attempted burglary, disclosed the affair and located the place where the glass had been hidden. On visiting the place it was found that it had been stolen from the original thief by his friends. The clue was then lost for some time, but Chief Irwin kept a close watch, and a day or two since left the city. Yesterday morning he returned with the glass and it was securely locked up in the safe at the Mayor's office, where it remains at present. The glass has been recovered and the thief will probably sooner or later be brought to grief.

The name of the man who stole the glass is Jacob Johnson, who was arrested for highway robbery sometime since and "skipped" his bail. Since then he has been engaged in a burglary here and has left Pittsburgh for good. The detectives can obtain him as they obtained the glass. Too much credit cannot be given to Chief Irwin for the manner in which he has worked up the affair in case.

THE COAL EXCHANGE.

Important Meeting Yesterday—The Advance Demanded by the Coal Miners Refused.

The members of the Coal Exchange yesterday afternoon held a meeting at the office of Hon. Joseph Walton, for the purpose of taking action in regard to the present strike among the coal miners of the Monongahela and Youghiogheny valleys.

The meeting was called to order at half past one o'clock, by selecting John F. Deavo, as Chairman, and George Miller, as Secretary. Mr. Deavo stated the object of the meeting in a practical speech, reviewing the coal trade and the demand of the miners for an advance of wages.

Mr. Peter Haberman offered a resolution that the coal operators of the Monongahela and Youghiogheny Valleys adhere to the prices paid to the miners at present.

The resolution gave rise to a spirited debate, in which all those present took part.

Mr. W. H. Brown said that the demand was unjust and exorbitant, and if allowed would tend to drive the Pittsburgh operators out of the south and south-western markets. If this was to be done let it be done now. The only alternative for the coal men was to fight it to the bitter end.

N. J. Bigley coincided with the views expressed by Mr. Brown. He stated that the miners were paid four cents per bushel, and that at Cincinnati and other markets, buyers were demanding lower prices; the coal merchants, in the present state of the market, could not afford to pay higher rates for mining. He would advocate the closing up of the mines, believing that course to be preferable to acceding to the demand of the miners.

Hon. Joseph Walton followed, reviewing the state of the coal trade, present and prospective; referred to the serious interference by reason of the prevailing rapid-mile among horses, and in conclusion, urged dealers to stand firm for the old rates to coal miners.

A number of other gentlemen present spoke in a similar vein, after which a preamble and resolutions, the import of which was that the dealers refused to accede to the demand of the miners for an increase of wages, were adopted unanimously.

Captain Lisle learned that the works of J. S. & D. A. McDonald were paying the prices demanded by the miners, and if this be so he moved that a committee of two be appointed to wait upon the firm. Agreed to. Messrs. Lisle and Cornell were appointed as the committee.

Crystal Palace (round) Cook Stoves are to be had only at Reno's Terracotta and Stove House, 41 Federal street, Allegheny.

THE RESULT.

Grant's Great Majority—Official Footing Up of the Returns—16,791 Majority—Meeting of the Return Judges Yesterday.

The Return Judges of the county met in the Common Pleas Court room yesterday for the purpose of receiving and counting the official returns of the county. The Board was organized by electing Capt. Casper Gang, of Allegheny, as Chairman, and James P. Cass, John Fleming and W. K. McClintock as Clerks.

The result, as shown by the official returns, is as follows. It shows that Allegheny county has given for Grant the unprecedented majority of 16,791.

NAMES OF DISTRICTS CHANGED.

In order that our readers may be enabled to make the comparisons complete, in the South Side wards, we designate as follows the boroughs now known as wards. The votes of these boroughs in the election of 1868, and for Hartranft will show the losses and gains:

24th ward, (Ormsby); 25th ward, (East Birmingham, 1st precinct); 26th ward, (East Birmingham, 2d precinct); 27th ward, (St. Clair); 28th ward, (Birmingham, 1st precinct); 29th ward, (Birmingham, 2d precinct); 30th ward, (South Pittsburgh); 31st ward, (Allentown); 32d ward, (Mount Washington); 33d ward, (Monongahela); 34th ward, (West Pittsburgh); 35th ward, (Union); 36th ward, (Temperanceville).

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Brief Mention of Criminality.

MAYOR CALLOW had four common cases yesterday morning.

THE Mayor sent Wm. Smith to the Work House for thirty days, on a charge of drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

ROBERT MISER was sent by Mayor Blackmore to the Work House for thirty days for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

ADALINE KNOBE made information before Alderman D. L. Smith, charging her husband with abusing her and with threatening to take her life. A warrant was issued.

JOHN CRUMPT and John Downey, two small boys, were arrested in Allegheny, having been caught in the act of stealing books from a store on Federal street. They are in the lockup awaiting a hearing.

MAYOR BLACKMORE last evening issued a warrant for the arrest of Gabriel Kelley, charged, on oath of Bridget Patton, with assault and battery. The parties reside on Third avenue, below Market street.

MARY MURRAY made an information yesterday before Alderman O'Donnell, charging her husband, James Muiray with abandonment and desertion. The loving couple have been married just three months, and now, it is alleged James informs his wife that she will have to work for her own support. The dutiful husband was arrested and placed in jail to await a trial by court.

JAMES SCOTSON was arrested in the Third ward, Allegheny, yesterday, for disorderly conduct, by Officer Cowell, and while being brought to the lockup James became belligerent and tripped up the officer three times. He was finally landed in the lockup, and last evening was fined $10 by Mayor Callow, and in default of payment was sent twenty days to the work house.

Pay Your Bets.

Pay your election bets at once. If you have lost, send your friend to Pratt's, 107 Federal street, Allegheny, for the hat. Pratt has a full assortment, and when you are paying the bet you may as well do it right and allow your opponent to get a hat that will be fit to wear. Pratt's, 107 Federal street, is the place to send him for such an article.

Building and Picture Blocks, Stereoscopes, etc., at Evans' Department Store, 59 Fifth avenue.

The concert last night was largely attended by young men whose stylish appearance was in a great measure due to the fact that their fashionable garments had been purchased at the Boston One Price Clothing Store, No. 95 Smithfield street, or the branch, 178 Federal street, Allegheny.

"COLD blows the wind across the moor,
The dreary moor that I have crossed," sang the aged minstrel. He wouldn't have given utterance to such a plaintive wail if he had purchased a nice warm overcoat, such as may be at the Boston One Price Clothing Store, No. 95 Smithfield street, or 178 Federal street, Allegheny.

PENNSYLVANIA REFORM SCHOOL.

Visit to the Morganza Farm—Valuable Advice of Mr. Geo. E. Howe, Superintendent of the Ohio State Reform School.

Mr. Geo. E. Howe, Superintendent and acting Commissioner of the Ohio State Reform School, at Lancaster, Ohio, who has been spending some days with the managers and Superintendent of our Pennsylvania Reform School, visiting with them the Morganza Farm on Wednesday, and meeting with them in the afternoon and evening on Thursday, left for his home on Friday morning.

Mr. Howe's thorough study of the various methods of managing reformatory schools for delinquent juveniles, and his experience and complete success in developing and maturing the separate or family system in Ohio, qualify him to impart valuable advice to our managers and superintendent, which they fully appreciate. At the parting interview with him at the residence of Superintendent Avery, on Thursday evening, Mr. Avery and several of the managers present took occasion to assure him of their sense of obligation to him for his visit and especially for his counsel and much valuable information in relation to his system of conducting the Ohio school, a system which, in its principal features our institution has decided to apply and carry out, when the necessary buildings can be erected on the farm already secured for the purpose.

Intelligent and thorough as Mr. Howe unquestionably is, and deservedly eminent as his success has been, Mr. Avery, our Superintendent, is not without hope that he may be able to engraft on the Ohio system some improvement, at least in a few particulars, and Mr. Howe was kind enough to express his great confidence in Mr. Avery's ability to do so,—so far at least, as to avoid all the errors developed in his Ohio experiment. Mr. Howe very generously proffered to visit us again as our work progresses if desired, for further consultation and advice, an offer which we have no doubt our managers will be glad to avail themselves of. Mr. Howe, while here was the guest of his friend, Rev. R. N. Avery.

WHAT NEXT.

After the Horse Disease—The Demand for Carriages—And Where to get Them.

The horse disease just now may interfere with the use of carriages and other vehicles, but in a few days, when the epizootic alarms no more, people will return to the old ways, and then carriages and other vehicles will be again in demand. With this return there will be many who will discover—having had time for inspection—that the old vehicle is unfit for service and a new one required. In such an emergency the general inquiry will be in reference to the best trial list at which the want can be supplied, and the answer cannot but result in their taking a look at the extensive Carriage Bazaar of Messrs. Workman & Davis, Nos. 167, 169 and 171 Penn avenue. There will be found a large and varied assortment of all classes of vehicles,—the large majority of which are of home manufaction—made under the supervision of the firm and at their manufactory 46 and 48 Arch street Allegheny. The charges are variable, and the work of such a character that the intending purchaser can at a glance, see its superiority. If the assortment contains nothing that will exactly suit—which is hardly supposable—a vehicle will be ordered to be left and in the shortest possible time and the best style, a new vehicle will be manufactured. There are some people however whose prejudices run in favor of Eastern work; for these people it has been made a matter of inquiry, and there are always to be seen specimens of Eastern vehicles, so that the purchaser has a chance to compare home and foreign work, and make a choice—securing desired article at the same price than rules in the East. Pittsburgh purchasers cannot do better than to get their carriages, &c., of Messrs. Workman & Davis.

Castle Shannon Lots.

The recent great auction sale of lots by the Pittsburgh and Castle Shannon Railroad Company, having been appreciated by the generous and liberal patronage of a discerning public, thus swelling beyond expectation the pecuniary success of the project of establishing a flourishing village in a fertile section, with the most delightful surroundings, within a few miles of Pittsburgh, of access to the city on the completion of their railroad, and running of regular passenger trains in December next. The company, in view of the advanced season, have resolved to offer further public sales until next spring, but will, meanwhile, in compliance with an urgent demand of numerous parties who were unable to attend the public sale, continue to sell at private sale on their liberal terms of forty per cent. down and twenty quarterly payments. Buyers will call at the general office, No. 75 Fourth avenue, or at their office, Carson street, South Pittsburgh; also at their office at Castle Shannon, where they will, agent, who is always on hand to make sales. Plans of the lots and full information can be had at all the above named places. Now is the time to buy, before passenger trains are put on the road, as after that time lots will not be offered at present prices. TTHS

Masks and Faces.

Ladies who mask their necks and faces with cosmetics or enamels, do so both to no purpose. The plaster work deceives nobody. There is but one article known which will restore a blemished complexion or create external brilliancy more than a month of time's unretrieved waste, and that article is Hagan's Magnolia Balm. It performs this toilet miracle by infusing vitality into the skin. The floral virtue of this balm, which it is composed gently stimulate the circulation to the minute blood vessels, and brace the network of nerves through which they pass. Sallow pimpled and sear strengthened the external covering soon acquires a fresh and healthful hue, and every trace of sallowness disappears. The pallest cheeks derive from the beautifying influence of this delightful cosmetic a purer hue and the arms, hands and neck a blonde lustre which the charlatans, who profess to make ladies "beautiful forever" with their poisonous cement, can never hope to imitate. She Was Sure.

"Oh well," said lady No. 1. "I don't know much about machinery—I'm all confused when they begin to explain the different parts to me machines. But I've got a "Florence," and one thing I am sure of,—it does all the sewing I have and does it to my complete satisfaction. As long as I've had it, too, it has never needed trifling repairs, and is always in order for work. I can sit down any minute and sew with it.

"It must be a good machine," said lady No. 2. "I can't do that with the one I have. I believe I'll better think the matter over well first, and get a "Florence" for if it satisfies you it will satisfy me.

"Well," said the first lady, "mine is actually trifling, considering the amount of work I've done for me." Everything that the Agents, Messrs. Hecker & McKlain represented it, I have found it to be. I wouldn't change it now for any other one I have ever seen.

A Word in Season.

We have heretofore called attention to the merchant tailoring establishment of Mr. Thomas Scandrett, No. 225 Liberty street, and desire now to but add a word more. Mr. Scandrett is recognized among the leading men in his line in the western part of this State, and while he makes up his goods and fills all orders of his customers in the most stylish and durable manner, he keeps his prices down to the very lowest notch of the scale, realizing that by this course he secures to himself a trade always to be relied upon, and the event has proven how correct the speculation, for he now has a large and lucrative trade that sticks to him, and it is constantly on the increase. He has now an entirely new stock of goods, and is ready to supply all callers with the most stylish and seasonable overcoats and fall suits.
